

To build this wind turbine, we used an old treadmill motor that looks like this. Although the rest of these directions assume that you are using the same motor, it is possible to adapt them to suit your own motor.

