

The next step is shaping the blades. We find that the following dimensions work quite well:

